Manufacturing and design excellence

Invicta has a manufacturing pedigree that goes back over a century and is now a well-established market leader thanks to an ongoing emphasis on innovative design, top-level craftsmanship and dedicated customer service.

We always respond readily and enthusiastically to customer requirements and the changing needs of the food industry and, as such, our products are constantly being refined and developed to increase efficiency and improve production standards.

Invicta also employs some of the most skilled craftspeople in the business, many of whom have decades of industry experience and know-how. They take a huge pride in their work and every Invicta product is subjected to strict quality control so that it meets the highest of standards.

These high standards and top quality materials mean that our products not only perform well but their longevity represents an excellent return on your investment.

Coatings

are our speciality

Invicta's experts will help you to find the most appropriate coating solution for your needs and are happy to organise samples for bake trials. They can also provide advice on how best to maintain products and reap maximum benefit in terms of performance and efficiency.

Our coatings are based on materials developed by Whitford Worldwide, a market leader in innovative coatings for all types of industrial bakeware. They offer a variety of one-, two- and multi-coat systems with a broad range of problem-solving properties, including permeation resistance, corrosion resistance, abrasion resistance, surface preparation, adhesion, colour-matching and, of course, non-stick performance.

The Invicta coating range starts with a simple, easy-clean system progressing through to multi-layer fluoropolymer coatings for industrial bread, cake and morning goods production and are suitable for use in craft bakeries right up to high-throughput plant bakeries.

Coatings are supplied in a full range of colours to identify special product requirements, e.g. vegan, gluten free, vegetarian and anti-allergen products.

We have invested in many Invicta products, which have all been of excellent quality and given good, reliable service. The recently commissioned bespoke bakery tables have been a very welcome addition to our bakery and it was extremely useful to be able to design exactly what we needed.
